Messrs. S.H. & H. Chapman, Philadelphia, Pa.

Gentlemen;-

Mr. D.A. Sutherland, Supt. of the Prudential Ins. Co. here informs me that he has written you in reference to the coin cabinets. He was with me at ~~your~~ residence, and bought the largest cabinet. This is the cabinet which has been most severely damaged in transit and ^{he} has been feeling a little sore over it ever since. Not knowing what he has written I thought it best to write and let you know that I am not responsible for anything which he may say.

I do not think that the Express company has treated us at all fairly in this, as we went to the extra expense in order to ensure their arriving in safety, but hope that we will shortly be able to adjust the matter with them satisfactorially to all parties.

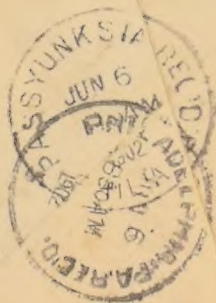

Trusting that this is satisfactory,

I remain,

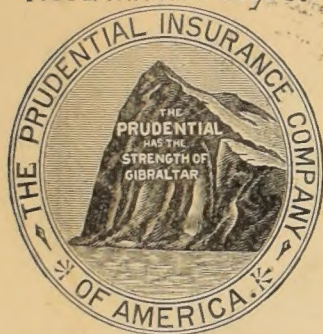

Very truly yours,

Gentlemen:

Would you kindly forward me a nice lot of Roman 1-2 and 3rd bronzes and denarii in approval. Please and sized lots; I do not want them classified as I do that myself. You might send some lots of each of the bronzes @ 75 ¢ each, and also some of the scarcer rubros also. In fact, a lot on the orders of those you have sent me before.

Gentlemen;

Please send me a good selection of Roman coins on approval as soon as possible, and oblige.

Send by express charges collect - if possible to consist of a large number of cheap denarii - and also coins of some of the rare rulers -

I have been buying mostly in Europe of late, but prefer to buy in this country as it is more convenient.

I believe I now have a small amount to my credit with you - I will promptly send money order for such price as I may later so returning coins not kept at my expense.

Hoping to be favored with an early reply and thanking you for all past favors

Gentlemen -

I thank you for your offer for the New York Cent. Have not yet decided as to whether I will sell or not.

Could you use specimens of the ^{very} rare 1870 D. and 1860 D. mint marks? ^{Sold dollars} 1870 has a very
mtd. at top - otherwise v. g. to fine.
1860 has been mtd. elsewhere. If you need them, I will give you an approximate idea ^{as} to what they might be worth to you. I would then be able to tell whether I could send them to you or not.

Any offer would of course be subject to inspection of as this one. Gold must be at rock bottom prices, equal to European figures. Would much rather buy here - all things being equal.

Also include a few extremely fine Roman denarii. *
Some Scotch Coins.

How about a Coin Cabinet?

Please do not send by U.S. as that Company does not deliver where I live but turns ^{packages} over to a local concern which makes additional delivery charge. which I object to paying. The other
